Note to Purchasers of FAO Album I

Now that you have completed FAO Money Album I and the 10,000 albums are sold out, we hope that you will continue with this unprecedented international issue, and buy FAO Money Album 2.

The complete Money Album 2 will also be issued in only 10,000 copies worldwide, a restricted number which incidentally should protect your investment in Album I. At the same time, FAO must take greater Precautions that persons buy the complete album, which we are doing by requesting you to pay a $10 deposit for the final page. Thus the first requested payment of $52 will comprise $40 for the binder and initial two pages; $2 for all handling, surface mail and insurance charges; and a $10 deposit which will be held to your account till all earlier pages are paid and the final page is ready, when $10 will be deducted from your final payment.

Alternatively, payment may be made all at once for a complete FAO Album 2, at $90 or equivalent per album, including the $2 charges. This is the same price as for Album I, and it is expected that Album 2 will similarly contain six pages of coins. Payment all at once will also serve as a guarantee against future price rises, for example, those caused in the past by currency realignments.

Payment for Album 2 can be made by means of the form below. The binder and initial two pages (16/18 coins) will be released during or before June 1972, and the following pages will appear at approximate six-monthly intervals. With each page distributed, purchasers will receive information on the likely contents of the following page. Should FAO, for unforeseen reasons, be unable to send you a further album page within the six-month interval, then we shall send you information on the new date of despatch. Should you be likely to change your address in the next two years or so, then please indicate both your present and more permanent address on the form below.
